My Prayer

Dearest Father,

Thank you for the things I am learning about the marriage covenant that unites a man and a woman as husband and wife. It is an exclusive promise the couple makes to love and care for each other and the family they create — for as long as they both shall live. In this vow, they pledge to remain faithful and true to their commitment no matter what. They guarantee before you and other witnesses that even if things get hard, they will not share their sacred love relationship with others. Thank you for blessing this holy marriage covenant.

Amen.
